becoming a VOLUNTEER at

IOWA CITY HOSPICE
Volunteering for Iowa City Hospice helps support our mission: to provide compassionate care for anyone in our community affected by serious advanced illness and end of life conditions.

We offer numerous and varied volunteer opportunities, from office work and handcrafts to patient care.

Non-Patient Care Opportunities

Use your office skills to support our staff by addressing envelopes, writing thank-you cards, and other office work.

Use your social skills by helping us with fundraising campaigns and community events.

Use your creative skills by baking goodies for support groups and other events, or knitting and crocheting shawls and lap blankets to comfort our patients.

Use your unique experiences and gifts to connect with Iowa City Hospice patients in ways as meaningful to you as those you serve.
Patient Care Opportunities

Patient and Family Support Volunteers provide companionship and support to terminally ill patients and their loved ones. Many are relatives and friends of former Iowa City Hospice patients. They have seen firsthand how Iowa City Hospice care impacts quality of life, and they want to help others experience its unique benefits.

As a Patient and Family Support Volunteer, you can:

• provide respite to caregivers, so they can run errands, attend events, or just relax;
• offer companionship by reading a story, talking about common interests, or just listening;
• be at the bedside when someone is actively dying;
• document a patient’s stories, images, and wisdom in narratives, photos, or memory books; or
• present a certificate of appreciation to veterans for their military service.

Bereavement Volunteers help our bereavement counselors offer ongoing support and education to those dealing with loss and grief. They may assist with follow-up calls to loved ones, mailings that offer information on grief and loss, and bereavement services designed specifically for children.
